DIVISIONS

Davcor is comprised of seven entities with various market segments in the security and lock sectors. These include Lock & Key, EKA CyberLock, EVWA, SmartLock Digital, Howard F Hudson (HFH), Freshware and Lencare.

Lock & Key is one of Australia's major locksmith supply merchants and is a recognised leader and innovator in the industry. Over the years, it has transformed into a dynamic enterprise with a stellar reputation for customer satisfaction, driven by our commitment to offering an extensive product range alongside first-rate delivery performance.

Howard F Hudson (HFH) is a leading Australian distributor of architectural and commercial door hardware. HFH delivers a comprehensive range of high-quality, compliant solutions designed to meet modern building requirements, including Fire and Egress standards. Our capabilities extend beyond supply to include specification support, customised solutions, local assembly, and product testing, all backed by experienced technical expertise and state-of-the-art facilities.

EKA CyberLock is the next-generation electro-mechanical master key system that secures, controls and audits all assets from the front door to remote locations. It combines the attributes of a conventional electronic control system with those of a mechanical master key system.

EVVA is home to world-leading, award-winning and innovative mechanical and electronic access control systems. Its offerings include the patented and SCEC-approved 4KS master key system, as well as the EPS G2 high-security master key system, featuring patented sinusoidal key technology and patent protection until 2041.

SMARTLOCK DIGITAL

WORLD'S LEADING SAFE, VAULT & ATM LOCKS

SmartLock Digital is the sole distributor of Dormakaba commercial and Kaba Mas government safe locks in Australia and New Zealand. The business is also home to the SmartLock Digital Assistant (SDA), the first solution of its kind developed by our team of in-house engineers and software developers.

Freshware services the Australian manufacturing sector by supplying a large range of diverse and unique locking and door hardware. Freshware caters to a broad range of industries, supplying products to garage door and shed manufacturers, office furniture manufacturers, cabinet makers, shopfitters, metal sheet fabricators, and more.

Lencare is a leading supplier and distributor of occupational therapy railings and other vital equipment used in the aged care and disability sectors. Our high-quality range of rails includes the innovative new RiteFit Rails system, among other specialised offerings.
