

Why Gallagher?

About Gallagher Security

Gallagher Security is a global leader in integrated technology solutions that unlock customer value through the power of our people and products. Our award-winning technology is trusted by government, defence, commercial, industrial, healthcare, transportation, mining, and educational organisations in 140 countries.

Helping to protect some of the world's most sensitive environments and assets, Gallagher designs and manufactures integrated, cyber-secure solutions for access control, perimeter security, and intruder detection from our global headquarters in New Zealand.

From making sure people go home safely to their families each night, to supporting organisations to be more efficient, productive, and profitable, Gallagher's intelligent technology can be scaled and customised across simple, enterprise, and high security sites.

Empowering over 20,000 security customers worldwide, Gallagher solutions are used to simplify life on campus within the education sector, keep staff and patients safe in healthcare, ensure the highest security requirements are met for government sites in the Five Eyes alliance, safeguard critical infrastructure within the utilities industry, and ensure uninterrupted movement for transport and logistics. Security is just the beginning. Visit security.gallagher.com to learn more.
