Why join AFGC?

Drive positive change

From reducing emissions and waste to improving nutrition and building domestic capability, being an AFGC member supports change and improves our industry's reputation.

Get stronger together

The AFGC is where you can find support, build influence and contribute to shaping a stronger future. As an AFGC member, you can directly influence how the industry responds to policy or challenges.

Invest in knowledge

Get early, exclusive insights and briefings on the things that matter:

- food regulation and labelling
- government priorities and policy decisions
- economic insights and commodity markets
- sustainability and packaging reforms
- global trends and reports

We interpret and explain complex regulatory issues and proposed legislation to save you time, reduce risk and inform your decision-making.

Who are our members?

Our members represent suppliers, retailers, government officials and regulators within Australia.

They are from organisations of all sizes, all with a vision for investing in jobs, innovation and sustainability.

The AFGC vision

A thriving and trusted grocery supply industry, delivering jobs, economic growth and helping people to live well.
