

Australian Chicken Meat Federation

Feeding the Future of Australia

Who we are

Australian Chicken Meat Federation (ACMF) is the peak industry body for the Australian chicken meat industry, representing integrated producers and growers at the national level.

Australia's chicken meat industry has a nation-wide presence, supporting regional jobs and local economies, and playing a crucial role in national food security. As the most consumed meat protein, it is popular for its versatility, value for money, nutritional density, and taste, making it a household staple.

Our Sustainability

The Australian chicken meat industry has the smallest environmental footprint among land-based meats. It is also the first globally to implement a chicken meat-specific sustainability framework with defined targets and metrics.

Our Welfare

Over 97.5% of meat chickens are raised under welfare accreditation schemes exceeding legal standards, with industry adhering to both legal and voluntary codes to enhance their welfare.

Our Food Safety

Chicken meat produced in Australia is part of a formal antimicrobial stewardship program. The Australian Chicken Meat Industry was the first livestock industry in the country to adopt such a program.
